

Fog Of Sex Project partners

The Student Sex Work Project is a three year project led by Swansea University in partnership with Terrence Higgins Trust, University of South Wales, National Union of Students Cymru and Cardiff and Vale University Health Board. The project is funded by the Big Lottery Innovation Fund; we are very grateful to the Big Lottery for funding this project.

The project carried out extensive research and also provided e-health services and support for students who are engaged in the sex industry. Furthermore the project provided sexual health information to the broader student population. As such this innovative project has made an important contribution to advancing knowledge and understanding of student sex work in Wales and across the UK while providing vital support and information for students at the same
